

HICKORY PUBLIC LIBRARY

STRATEGIC PLAN
2019-2022

INTRODUCTION

In spring 2019, the City of Hickory Library Advisory Board began work toward a new library strategic plan. The Board worked with the Library Director and State Library of North Carolina staff to develop a community survey and planning process.

The community survey was distributed in April and May 2019 in libraries, at various community sites and online. Responses were used to evaluate community needs and aspirations and to receive feedback about specific library services.

The following plan was developed from the survey results. The plan envisions robust library services that reflect our residents' values and priorities and address community stakeholders' concerns.

As we work to best serve residents and visitors through new and existing services, our staff will exhibit the City's core values of customer focus, innovation and teamwork.

MEASURING OUTCOMES

We will regularly evaluate our progress toward the goals of this plan.

Library Advisory Board Review

Library staff will provide updates about progress related to the strategic plan at each board meeting. Specific objectives will be reviewed annually.

Comments and Suggestions

We listen to ideas from library users. Comment boxes are placed at all of our library service desks. Emails and phone messages will be shared among management staff. We will address concerns immediately and share praise across library departments.

Community Conversations

Library staff and Board members will continue conversations with community stakeholders. We will add or adjust services as new community needs are identified.

Outcomes

We will evaluate the impact of our services in patrons' lives. By using the Project Outcome toolkit developed by the Public Library Association, staff will gather survey responses about the effectiveness of at least two service areas each year.

Statistics

We expect to see increases in the number of library visits, program attendance and use of materials. An annual report will use data from the State Library of North Carolina to compare our library to others across the state.
